the theme of the present volume concerns people s response to the natural environment considered at scales varying from that of a house hold plant to that of vast wilderness areas our decision to focus on this particular segment of the physical environment was prompted in part by the intrinsic interest in this subject on the part of a diverse group of social scientists and professionals and of laypersons for that matter and in part by the relative neglect of this topic in standard treatments of the environment behavior field it also serves to bring out once again the interdisciplinary nature of that field and we are pleased to have been able to include representatives from geography sociology social ecology and natural recreation among our contributors we believe that this volume will serve a useful purpose in helping to integrate the findings and concepts in this presently somewhat fragmented field scattered as they are over a very diverse array of publications representing a similarly varied group of specialties it is hoped that the result will be to stimulate future development of this area and to add a measure of increased coherence to it volume 7 of our series will be devoted to the theme of elderly people and the environment with m powell lawton joining us as guest co editor the titles of the papers comprising volume 7 are shown on page v irwin altman j oachim f wohlwill ix contents introduction
